At Tuesday's Meeting... E-Commerce and the future of online grocery shopping

Jon Dwyer's daughter, Carrie Blenkowski, the CMO of Peapod, gave a very interesting presentation describing the future of the online grocery shopping industry. Carrie thinks this is an area that has many opportunities, as it has great appeal to people who are busy (or very busy) that dislike (or even hate) grocery shopping. Grocery shopping is a $650 billion industry, and right now, less than 2% of grocery shopping is being done online. Businesses like Peapod are tapping into this market and delivering every type of grocery imaginable to people at their homes! Sadly, Peapod Grocery Delivery is not available in California, but hopefully it will be here soon.
